Seashells Instead of Glass.

One curious thing noted by Americans in the Philippines was the use by natives of seashells in lieu of window glass. There is a bivalve mollusk, native to the waters of that part of the world, which has a shell seven or eight inches in diameter, so thin as to be transparent. It is plentiful and costs nothing. Glass is expensive.

Discovered Baldwin Apple.

The other day the people of Woburn, Mass., unveiled a granite shaft and bronze figure of a colonial soldier, Col. Samuel Baldwin, who was at the battle of Lexington, and who had a notable war and peace record, but who is best remembered as the discoverer of the Baldwin apple. The apple rather than his war record has made Col. Baldwin famous.

WELL PLEASED WITH WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY NEW CHAMBER

E. J. Smith of American City Bureau Leaves Tomorrow Morning for Summer Session at Eagles

More Park, Pa.

E. J. Smith of the American City Bureau, who has been in the city for the past six weeks as follow up man in the organizing of Janesville's Chamber of Commerce, leaves tomorrow morning for Eagles Mere Park, Pa., where he will attend the two weeks' summer session of the American City Bureau.

Mr. Smith's work as follow up man for the American City Bureau in this city consisted of organizing the members' council, the program of work and taking charge of the election of the board of directors. He has fully organized all these branches but will return to the city at the request of the board of directors for a week after the summer session, to assist the new secretary in his duties.

Mr. Smith stated last evening that he is well pleased with the progress made by Janesville's new civic and commercial organization and that no where has there been more enthusiasm shown than in Janesville.

He also stated that the most important work of a follow up man is the organizing of a members' council, the most important in a modern Chamber of Commerce. The members' council of this city, Mr. Smith stated, is one of the most representative bodies he has ever seen and he is elated over the selection of the men for that body.

With applications still being received, it is expected that a new society will be organized within a few days. Several applications from men who are experts in the Chamber of Commerce work have been received and this is in assurance of getting a man that is capable of doing the work.

While Mr. Smith is absent the office on East Milwaukee street will remain open as usual.

BELOIT NEGRO IS SENTENCED TO 12 YEARS AT WAUPUN

Elby Barton Pleads Guilty in Circuit Court to Murder in the Third Degree.

Pleading guilty to murder in the third degree, Elby Barton, Beloit negro, accused of killing two other negroes, Mrs. Addie Bailey and George Holson, in his home on the night of June 11, was convicted on his own plea yesterday afternoon in circuit court here before Judge George Grimm and sentenced to twelve years in the state penitentiary at Waupun. Evidence against the accused man was so strong that a trial was unnecessary. He had entered a plea of guilty and asking the court for clemency. Attorney W. A. Arnold was appointed by the court to represent the defendant and District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie appeared for the state.

According to the story of eye-witnesses to the shooting affair, Barton shot and killed Holson and Mrs. Bailey in his own home on the night of June 11, while under the influence of liquor. A quarrel arose when Mrs. Bailey ordered a man named Eddy, a friend of Barton's, out of the house. Barton protested and this so angered Mrs. Bailey that she picked up a heavy glass to hurl at him but changed her mind and threw a pillow instead. According to the testimony, Barton, in a fit of anger, then drew a gun from inside his shirt and began firing wildly. The first shot killed Holson and the next shot killed Mrs. Bailey. Both of whom died in a short time. The charge of first degree murder was subsequently changed and Barton's plea of murder in the third degree was accepted because of Mrs. Bailey's threatening of Barton with the glass.

The matter of the will of Joseph Shively also received attention by the court on the first decision by the court on June 24, when George L. Pullen was declared the legal heir, the costs were assessed against the contestants. The contestants yesterday moved to modify the court's findings as to the taking of costs against the contestants and this was granted and the sum of two hundred dollars was ordered to be paid out of the estate.

In the case of John Smith vs. Cyrus Brown et al. action to quiet title was ordered by the court.

Mrs. Irene Terry was granted a divorce from John Terry and was further granted the right to resume her maiden name of Henning. Attorney E. H. Ryan appeared for the plaintiff and the defendant, who made no defense.

E. D. McGowan appeared as special divorce counsel.

A large number of lawyers from the county outside Janesville were present at the court. They were: H. W. Adams, T. D. Woodley, Judge A. B. Clark, Owen Rutledge, J. R. M. Richmond and F. L. Jones of Evansville; G. W. Blanchard and E. M. Ladd of Edgerton; and Grant W. Davis of Milton.

Judge C. L. Pfister in county court admitted the following wills to probate: Edward Ruger, George W. Hall, Steven A. Baker, and Charles Harsh.

Private Nielsen in his letter tells of the battle on that date and gives a very vivid description of it. The letter follows:

June 10, 1918

Dear Mother:

Just a line to let you know that I am feeling fine and I hope this will find you the same.

This is the first time I could write to you for two weeks. I was shot in my right arm and leg, but I am getting now so I can use my hand a little, but I do not know if you can read it, but I am writing or not, but it is the best I can do now.

I will be all right in a short time again. I can walk around pretty good now for so short a time that I have been hurt.

I don't think of anything to write more so will close for now, but I will write again soon.

You see I cannot use my arm too much at first.

FARM LABOR AGENCY,
No. 150.

WILL YOU HELP ON THE FARM?

The sources of farm labor lie this year in the local unemployed farm labor, single and married men in cities and towns, and in the farm labor boys between 16 and 21 and those former farm workers who, having drifted to cities, are now desirous of a return to the land.

There are many thousands of farm hands who want to return. The Public Service Reserve, through its machinery, which covers nearly every county and township, will enroll as war emergency farm workers men who will give from one to two days a week to work on farms in the neighborhood or for a month or more where ever they are needed. College students, professional men, clerks, and other employees will be asked to devote their vacations in this service and manufacturers to release employees for limited periods. Men who are able to start work at once and all start work during the greater part of the season should not enroll in the Reserve, but find immediate employment in applying to the Farm Labor Agency, No. 150 at the Janesville Daily Gazette.

TUESDAY'S MARKETS.

Chicago, July 3.—The July movement of hogs is on in force. Receipts yesterday were 10,000 head for two days this week the total is 90,000 head against 52,000 for the first two days of last week. The seven primary markets of the country show a total of 20,000 head against 171,000 last week for two days.

That the country has an exceptionally large supply of hogs ready for slaughter is evidenced by the large receipts at all markets tributary to the corn belt. Farmers are not stingy with their corn when it comes to feeding hogs, for the average weight of all the hogs received at Chicago in June was 235 lbs., or 10 lbs. more than in June last year.

The bulk of the hogs received in the last three months have been of the heavy class, which are selling close up to the light weights, in spite of the fact that there is a broad demand for the small hogs that supply the hotels.

Yesterday's hog market broke 15¢ to 25¢ under the pressure of the liberal supply, but packers bought freely at the decline and the market was glad to get the hogs at the prices.

Good cattle found a quick outlet at steady prices, but most of the common steers and the bulk of the butcher stock sold 10 to 15¢ lower. Quality was exceptionally poor and there were no prime steers to really test the top of the market. Receipts of cattle for two days total 35,000, against 18,000 for the first two days of last week.

Demand for good to choice lambs is very strong and prices lately have shown a decided upward tendency. Supply of rather liberal receipts. The supply from the western ranges is increasing rapidly.

Common Cattle Lower.

Quality and the cattle section was exceptionally poor and the supply of 16,000 carried a large percentage of common steers and cows and few very fat cattle. Receipts of all the light weight, grassy cattle are 25¢ to 40¢ lower than last week, selling at $11.50 to $15 with some difficulty.

Quotations:

Feeder steers, 17.00@18.00.

Good to choice steers, 15.00@17.00.

Common to med. steers, 12.00@15.00.

Yearlings, 13.75@17.75.

Fat cows and heifers, 12.75@14.50.

Canning cows, cutters, 8.00@9.00.

Native bulls and stags, 7.75@12.50.

Stockers and feeders, 8.00@12.75.

Poor to fancy calves, 12.00@17.00.

Due to an excessive supply of 45,000 hogs the markets slipped backward 15 to 25¢ under the aggressive drive of the big packers.

was good and regular buyers inquired freely, but the run was too large for the immediate requirements of the demand and there was very little inquiry from Eastern shippers.

Quotations:

Light butchers, 16.50@17.00.

Light bacon, 16.75@17.00.

Good heavy, 16.00@16.25.

Mixed packing, 14.00@14.45.

Rough to heavy packing, 13.50@16.00.

Poor to best pigs, 14.50@16.25.

Good Lambs Higher.

Receipts were 14,000 in the sheep department. Demand for good lambs was strong and prices were considered steady to 25¢ higher.

Quotations:

Good to choice Spring lambs, 18.00@19.00.

Common to medium, 14.00@18.00.

Spring lambs, 17.00@18.00.

Western lambs, 17.00@18.00.

Good native ewes, 11.00@12.75.

MONROE COUPLE HELD AS ALIEN ENEMIES

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Matzke Arrested for Alleged Disloyal Remarks.

Alleged disloyal utterances and pro-German ranting have entangled two alien enemies, man and wife, in the meshes of the law. The case, coming to the attention of the department the first of the week, is that of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Matzke, who were arrested at Monroe as alien enemies Monday and taken to the Dane county jail at Madison, pending orders from Washington.

The Matzkes, it is said, consistently refused to subscribe to any patriotic fund, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. or War Savings stamps. When approached last week by two women solicitors in the War Savings stamps drive, Mrs. Matzke ordered them from the house, exclaiming that "we ought not have bothered the war" and that she "hoped Germany would win." Complaint filed against her resulted in her being brought to Monroe by the county authorities. Mr. Matzke proceeded to do some pro-German ranting in his own account then, it is said, and his actions soon landed him in the same position as his wife. Their rabid utterances will probably land the two in the federal penitentiary at Port Leavenworth, Kansas, if the department of justice prosecutes them to the limit.

On sale at St. Joseph's Convent, identification cards and pocket folders for soldiers and sailors. Also numerous religious articles.

SERG. SARTELL TELLS ABOUT CELEBRATION

Janesville Soldier, Former Member of Company M, Writes of Celebration Held on Birthday of Joan de Arc.

Sergeant Major Ervin Sartell, a former member of Company M, has written a very interesting and descriptive letter from France telling in detail of the celebration held by the French people on the birthday of Joan de Arc. Sergeant Sartell in his letter tells how the natives of that country respect the memory of Joan de Arc and how in almost every city or village a statue of the martyred girl was found. The letter follows:

Sunday, June 2, 1918, 10:00 a. m.

On Sunday morning, June 2nd, I awoke up and looked down the street of the city where I am billeted and great surprise awaited me. The street, as far as I could see, was covered with flowers, and all from the Five Points to the Michaleaux Flats. I hurried and dressed and soon learned that this day was the anniversary of Joan de Arc's birthday. She has the same remembrance, and this day is the same as we have on the 22nd of February, in memory of the birth of George Washington.

In past history we learned of Joan de Arc, but a girl of about eighteen years of age, who led the French army to victory against the English, she saved the country from ruin, but she was burned at the stake by the English. Many of the Frenchmen expect another Joan de Arc in this war. I have often wondered what day of the year the great holiday is going to be, not only for the French and British, but for us too, the day of victory over here. I visited Joan de Arc's birthplace some time ago and it was a very interesting trip. Not only the large cities in France, but very small villages in France have a statue of Joan de Arc somewhere in the immediate vicinity. There are so many statues and so many flowers that no one can but imagine the beauty of France before this great war.

Often during our school days we have heard about the chimes of the church bells in the foreign countries. I have heard them real often, but never before have I heard so many bells ringing at once. At the moment, about nine o'clock the parade passed the office. About two thousand participants, 1900 of which were women and children. Most all the children and young ladies were dressed in white from head to foot, and it gave me a different impression than I had in the youth when I later had a foot on this foreign soil. The latter part of last winter, wooden shoes are not the ideal kind of footwear in this part of France. Every Saturday morning there is a big market on one of the lower streets of this village. All the way from 25 to 50 small wagon loads of small pigs are lined up. Each proprietor sells his own wares, and between the jabber of the foreign language and the many saucers of the pigs, make one feel as if he is in the South State or the street in Chicago. The people from all over the village buy their pork in this way, and if they have no pig to carry the meat in their away in they either carry it in their arms or by means of a sack or baby carriage. This baby carriage has been about the most useful vehicle over here, as far as I can see, for it not only use it for its real purpose, but carry milk, pigs, vegetables, and ground fertilizer in it.

I eat at a wonderful mess at the present time, and really it is better all around that it was in the states. The counting of course the goodies we used to get from home. To give you an idea of what the mess at this station is, I will give you yesterday's menu. Most always depends upon the circumstances, and many times I have put up for days with "bully beef and hard tack."

THE KAISER PAINTS AMERICAN ADVERTISING

Germany is gloating over what it pleased to term "a disastrous defeat in American advertising." Here in editorial translation from the "Tagblatt," the despised Yankee nation think they are going to win the war and force Germany out of foreign markets there is nothing to indicate the sentiment in their local and foreign advertising. Many of their advertising agencies have closed their doors through lack of orders. In their much-talked-of captions of industry have canceled advertising contracts everywhere.

"Germany and German merchants have increased their advertising space in neutral countries and at home. It pays to advertise in war as well as in peace. The far-seeing merchant never stops advertising."—Berlin "Tagblatt."

Parents are watching. The advertiser who outlasts his publicity is helping to make the above come true.

Find Body of Man.
Racine.—Mystery surrounding the disappearance on June 20 of Andrew Gurski, aged twenty-seven years, was solved Monday night when his body was found floating near the harbor entrance. Gurski left his home at 6:30 to the government breakwater and it is believed he was accidentally drowned.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Five Arraigned Before Judge Maxfield on Charges of Drunkenness—Edward Chandler Draws Twenty-five and Cost of Forty Days.

It may be that many of the surrounding towns are dry or it may be some other reason, but the municipal court in this city has had this week one of its busiest days in several years.

There were five men arraigned on a charge of drunkenness on Monday, four yesterday and this morning five more faced Judge Maxfield when he called court.

Edward Chandler of Rockford was the first one to appear before the Judge. He told how he started drinking a week ago in Rockford and then came to Beloit where he continued to drink and when Beloit went dry on Saturday he came to Janesville to finish his spree. Judge Maxfield told him that he picked a very poor place for his finish and that he would have ample time to consider the matter. He was fined twenty-five dollars and cost of forty days.

James Keenan who claimed Troy, New York, as his home, was arraigned with being drunk. He claimed that he has been working on the farm of J. A. Jones for the past two months. He was given a fine of five dollars and cost of seven days.

A trio of railroad workers who were unable to work owing to a strike of section men on the Northwestern railroad were also arraigned before the judge on the charge of being drunk. The trio was composed of Ted Mackey, Larry Barry and Fred Soneberg. They claimed that they hailed from Racine, but have been working at South Janesville.

Judge Maxfield explained to them that it was impossible for him to find out their past lives but all claimed that they had never been arrested before. The judge told them that he would give them the benefit of the doubt and fined them five dollars and cost each of seven days in jail.

TOMMIES IN BARRICADED STREET STEM ONRUSH OF THE GERMANS

Official reports often speak of desperate hand to hand fights in the streets of French villages. The accompanying picture shows some of the difficulties placed in the way of the Hun during his recent attempt to capture a French village. British Tommies have barricaded a street. Behind this barricade they hope to slaughter Germans who without such good cover rush to the attack.

STORY OF SPY THAT VISITED THIS CITY

Janesville residents will be interested in the following extract from the story of Mme. Storch, the infamous German woman spy, who was recently taken in custody in the Billmore hotel, New York, by agents of the United States department of justice, after her six years' work in various European capitals. This deal directly with Major Vladimir Schwartzkopensky, who gave several lectures and talks in Janesville and other Rock county communities, addressed the students of the high school and was well received, until he was taken into custody by the United States department of justice, in the Tower of London, according to the following extract:

"In the files of the intelligence department of the British war office there is laid away until after the war the interesting story of Vladimir Schwartzkopensky, the seven-foot tall officer of the czar's body guard, who, during the early days of the war, who appeared in this country simultaneously with Mme. Storch, and was taken from here to his execution in London."

Orfordville News

Orfordville, July 2.—The W. S. S. drive in the town of Spring Valley was completed on Saturday. The quota was not raised but the township did raise the quota. The number of inhabitants in the township being 758, while the amount raised was $15640.

Meetings were held in every school house and before the close of the campaign every adult in every district felt that it was his work to see that every other man and woman came along with his fair share.

Every person who failed to attend these meetings was seen by a solicitor and a systematic canvass was thus made of every district.

Much credit is due to Chas. Taylor for his untiring efforts in the various school districts. He was with me in four different meetings and certainly delivered the goods. Charlie was also a good public speaker, but since his activities in behalf of the various war measures he has developed into an orator in the truest sense of the word. He has a message and a world. Raise War Fund.

Wausau.—The Marathon county council of defense has decided to adopt the war fund plan and the money raised will be known as the "Marathon War Fund." Committees are busy arranging for an active campaign along lines that are equitable to all and it is expected the public will give hearty approval to the pooling of all war activities for funds.

Back the Government to the Limit

The Government has asked American business to pursue a certain course for the duration of the war.

Keep quality up and prices reasonable, —a strictly non-profiteering policy.

It is the only patriotic policy.

It is the policy this company has always adopted and the one we will continue to pursue.

We stand ready to undergo any sacrifice in order to cooperate with the Government.

We believe it is best for ourselves.

We know it is best for our country.

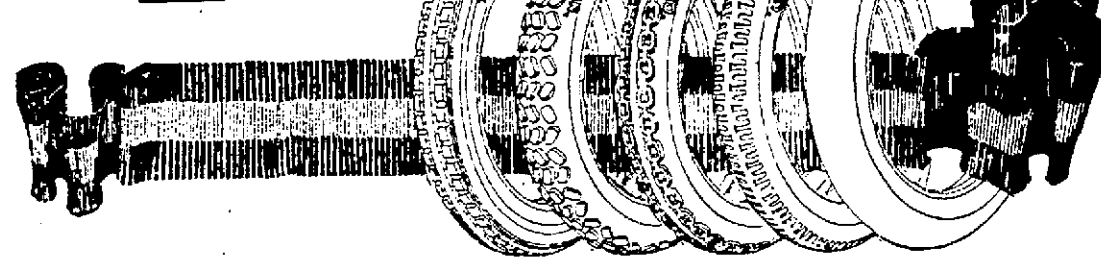

We appeal to all concerns—big and small—to adopt the same policy.

American business must rally as a unit to the support of the Government.

It is the surest and the quickest way to win the war.

THE OLD LIBERTY BELL.

There was tumult in the city,
 In the quiet old Quaker town,
 And the streets were rife with people
 Pacing restless up and down;
 People gathering at corners,
 Where they whispered each to each,
 And the sweetest stood on their temples,
 With the earnestness of speech.

As the bleak Atlantic currents
 Lash the wild Newfoundland shore,
 So they beat against the Statehouse,
 So they beat against the door;
 And the minister of the robes,
 Made a harmony profound,
 Till the quiet street of chestnuts
 Was all turbulent with sound.

"What they do it?" "Dare they do it?"
 "What is speaking?" "What's the life?"
 "What of Adams?" "What of Sherman?"
 "O, God, grant they won't refuse!"
 "Make some way there!" "Let me hear!"

"I am stifling!"—"Stifle then!"
 When a nation's life is at hazard,
 We've no time to think of men!"
 So they beat against the portal—
 Man and woman, maid and child;
 And the July sun in heaven
 On the scene looked down and smiled.

The same sun that saw the Spartan
 Shed his patriot blood for Rome,
 Now behold the soul of freedom
 All unimpeded rise again.

Aleat in that high steeple
 Sat the bellman, old and gray;
 He was weary of the tyrant
 And his iron sonnet ready;
 So he sat with one hand ready
 On the clapper of the bell,
 When his eyes should catch the signal,
 Very happy now to tell.

See! see! the dense crowd quivers
 Through all its length of line—
 At the boy beside the portal
 Leaps forth to give the sign!
 With his small hands upward lifted,
 Breezes dallying with his hair,
 Hark! with deep, clear intonation,
 Breaks his young voice on the air.

Unhushed the people's swelling murmur,
 "Let the boy's strange, joyous cry!"
 "Ring!" he shouts aloud, "Ring, Grandpa!"
 Ring! O, Ring for Liberty!"
 And straightway, at the signal,
 The old bellman lifts his hand,
 And sends the good news, making
 Iron music through the land.

The above poem describes what happened one hundred and forty-two years ago tomorrow. The great bell that tolled forth the glad tidings on that day still is a cherished relic of the nation's history and is revered by millions who have seen it and know its story. Could it ring forth again tomorrow it would give to the world another message of liberty—a message that is being forced home on the delighted people who follow blindly the Ward Lord of the House of Representatives.

A peace that is being dearly bought by the blood of our soldier boys who will tomorrow be fighting their foes in the trenches just as the men of this nation of ours fought the savage Hessian Huns one hundred and forty-two years ago.

FARM GAMES AND GANGS.
 Some people claim that the trouble in securing workers on the farms recently came from failure to provide comfortable accommodations for these men. This does not apply to the small farm where one or two helpers live and out with the family and fare as well as anyone. However, there are no doubt many farm hands who have had to put up with stuffy quarters over a shed or in a barn. This does not promote permanency of employment.

On big farms the providing of comfortable accommodations for workers becomes a problem. Many observers say labor would be more easily obtained and accomplished more, if gangs and camps of employees could be organized to work for an entire farm district, and go through it systematically, according to methods of modern efficiency.

They think that under a hustling foreman, who should lay out a certain standard to be accomplished, the aggregate done would exceed what is now accomplished by pattering farm hands working for the individual farmer.

Last summer there was an extraordinary demand for labor to harvest the peach crop in Niagara county, New York. The farmers met and agreed on a uniform price and hired gangs through their county agent. They fitted out comfortable bunk houses and attracted enough labor by doing the thing in a business-like way, with regard for the interests of the help, to harvest the crop satisfactorily.

The farmers complain that everyone is kicking on the prices they have to charge now, and they say that they can't afford extra frills. But it is quite possible that a gang of farm workers for a whole neighborhood, directed and supervised like factory workmen, might put through so much work that the advantage of making them permanently comfortable might be apparent.

THAT SIREN SONG.

German statesmanship run-true to form. In the surging back and forth of the tide of war Germany has taught the world what to expect. Whenever she fancied herself able to take and to hold, there was the declaration that the "German sword" would make a German peace. Whenever the tide has gone against her German statesmen have fawned and cringed, attempting to delude her onces into a peace conference. As soon as the first offensive of March 21 was definitely checked it was seen that the net would be spread again.

But the aims for which we took up arms are unchanging. They stand today exactly as they were on April 6, 1917. We entered the war because we were forced to see and understand the object of Germany. We could no longer shut our minds to the fact that the German ideal represented nothing but domination, and that she was opposed by the ideals of human freedom. We saw at last that this was more than a war; it was a world upheaval, with the destructive forces of Teutonicism, on the one hand, clashing against the ideals that were the very cornerstone of civilization. It was then we said that liberty, law and justice should rule. But this can never be so long as the sword of Prussian militarism remains unbroken. Our course is straight ahead through the bloody muck of the battlefield until this is accomplished. There is no other way.

Our ship of state is navigating a dangerous sea. This aspect of von Kuehlmann is the song of the siren luring mariners to destruction. It is said that when Ulysses passed that place he stopped up the ears of his sailors that they might not be drawn on the rocks. The President is our Ulysses. His note to the Pope should drown the music that would lure us to shipwreck. And, if we would know what the siren looks like when unmasked, we have but to picture Belgium, France, Poland, Rumania, Russia and Armenia to see it in all its irreclaimable hideousness.

ONE MILLION MEN.

Secretary of War Baker's announcement that there are a million United States fighting men in France and more on the way, comes as a birthday gift to the nation. The cheerful news that our soldier boys have already demonstrated their ability to play the part of veteran soldiers in the battles they have taken part in, shows that this million fighting men have the right spirit in them and that they will continue to pour their men, food and money into Europe, and the launching of a hundred ships in various shipyards almost simultaneously is an answer to the Kaiser that the United States is in this war to win and make the world safe for human beings to live in and not fearful of the "Beasts of Berlin."

Any grown up person whose exuberant patriotism calls on him to set off explosives on July Fourth, has fully qualified for immediate transportation to the trenches, where the explosives be put where they will do the most good.

The man who is anxious to make money out of present war conditions must be first cousin to the one who used his wife's funeral as a favorable occasion to drum up some new customers.

The pugilist is in great doubt about the pugilists, as it is impossible to say whether they should be shut up in asylums, or allowed to go at large in charge of keepers.

Just Folks
 By Edgar A. Guest.

FOURTH OF JULY.
 The old bell rang, that glorious day,
 When Freedom as a babe was born.
 Yet none there was could truly say
 The meaning of that splendid morn.

Men knew, because they saw and heard,
 That life was passing through a change;
 But neither dream nor printed word
 Could sound the depths of deeds so strange
 Into the parliament of life
 A child has come from parents' lips
 Born in the days of stress and strife
 According to the will divine.

Men knew the shackles forged of old
 Were thick with rust and time's decay—

Knew that the tinsel and the gold
 Of ages long must pass away;
 But what the mission, what the goal,
 Of Freedom's child, no man could tell,
 And none could guess the splendid soul
 They greeted then with swinging bell.
 Races long used to keen distress
 Learned of this babe across the sea,
 But in the darkness failed to guess
 That some day he should set them free.

Year after year the infant grew,
 And those who loved him set aside
 His date of birth to pledge anew
 Their faith and be resanctified.
 Yet few could penetrate the dim,
 Far distance of the future years
 And see what purpose waited him.
 When war should flood the world
 With tears.
 None say the courage of his soul,
 None guessed the splendor of his brow,
 But God has opened wide the scroll;
 Freedom has come to manhood now!

America, the child of old,
 Destined by God on high to be
 His instrument of courage, bold,
 To set all troubled peoples free,
 Has blossomed out of early youth
 Into the splendor of a man,
 And stands today to serve the truth
 According to the Master's plan.
 Ring bells, and thundering cannons
 Let hallelujahs shake the hills.
 Tyrants shall fall, to reign no more;
 Freedom her destiny fulfills!

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.
 The German crown prince is very fond of boiled beef and horseradish. There is a market in Shanghai for second hand mop wringers. A cubic foot of lava from Mount Popocatepetl weighs 140 pounds. Overdose soles thoroughly boiled make a splendid substitute for tripe. If all the thrift stamps sold in this country in one day were stuck on a bill, they would paper the Kaiser's dining room at Potsdam fifteen feet deep. Chestnut bells were first used in this country in 1881. J. Edgar Hoover never appeared in the Senate in pink pajamas. Gen. Ludendorff once studied for the ministry—but not hard enough.

COLUMBUS DISCOVERED AMERICA, BUT HE DIDN'T DISCOVER HOW TO LIVE IN IT ON $25 A WEEK.

A LITTLE SLICE OF LIFE.
 The young lady who lives next door, And who has a sweetheart named Jack,
 In the army somewhere in France,
 Came in all out of breath yesterday
 With some very disquieting news.
 She held a letter in her hand,
 "Isn't it too bad," she said,
 "General Pershing had planned a big
 Advance against the Germans one day
 And he had to postpone it. Listen—
 And she read to us from the letter:
 "The advance planned did not take Place. I fear it was my fault, darling.
 But, really, I couldn't help it.
 I was in the hospital for three days,
 And they had to postpone the whole thing."
 Once again we say it must be great
 To be a lady in love with a soldier.
 Especially a soldier like Jack,
 Who believes he is fighting the whole war.
 And that's the way to feel about it,
 too.

Again we are informed by a dairy journal that "it is next to impossible to milk a cow with a plug hat on."

TO BECOME CHIEF MILITARY CENSOR

WHEN SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN WERE DRAWN FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE

Secretary Baker, drawing the first number and "Major Billy" Weiborn, who aided in drawing the numbers.

War Secretary Baker, blindfolded drew the first pellet in the recent second drawing for the draft. This drawing provides the order in which 700,000 young men who registered June 5 will be called for army service. Twelve hundred pellets were drawn from a glass bowl. The drawing took two hours. "Major Billy" Weiborn, who is given credit for knowing more about the details of the draft than anyone else, helped draw the pellets.

'ATTA BOY! AMERICAN FIGHTERS STAGE BALL GAME IN PARIS TO HELP SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS

American soldiers and sailors playing ball in Paris.

When American soldiers and sailors meet in a ball game it's "war to the out." Army and navy lads staged an exhibition game recently for the benefit of the allied sick and wounded soldiers at Bois De Boulogne, Paris. The game drew a huge crowd, attracted much attention and realized a large sum for the stricken soldiers. Games are to be staged often for similar purposes.

MORRIS MILLER

Ed Barrow's plan to make an outfielder out of Babe Ruth appears to be in line for a revision. Ruth as a hitter every day is of more value to the Boston club than Ruth as a pitcher every fourth day. As a pitcher, Barrow has been quick to recognize the fact. With three dependable pitchers at his call and two or three second string boxers capable of doing a turn in the box, the plan has its advantages. But now a pitching problem confronts the Boston manager and Babe may have to go back to the pitching staff.

Dutch Leonard has left the Red Sox. The veteran southpaw has taken a position with the Boston club. Leonard is a pitcher and will do most of his pitching in the future for the shipyard boys. Now and then he will drop over to Fenway park to pitch a game for his old team, but as far as regular service with the Sox is concerned, Leonard is lost. This leaves the pitching burden on the shoulders of Joe Bush and Carl Mays, with Sam Jones showing signs of winning his spot as Barrow has come to the conclusion that Ruth's great pitching ability must be utilized. As Babe cannot retain his pitching skill and work three or four games in the outfield, it appears that it will have to give up outfielding.

Ruth is on the ulcers list at the present time. His right wrist is encased in a band and painted with iodine. Crashing into the stand at Detroit proved painful to the slugger and has impaired his ability to pitch as well as to swing a bat.

Barrow has with him as utility infielders Ford, a young collegian, and Frank Tresh, who once was a member of the Yankees. Ford is from Tufts College and made quite a reputation in the college ranks. Everett Scott has been placed in class by his home board at Bluffton, Ind., despite the fact that he has a wife and two children. He previously was classified in 4A division, and latest ruling has caused some surprise. The question may be asked: "Are the Braves defaulting to pay $2,000 more to the Atlanta club for Perry's release if Connie Mack waives claim?"

Intercollegiate football will be played as usual next fall. This decision was arrived at during a recent meeting of the athletic representative of a majority of our major universities of the east held in conjunction with the annual gathering of the central board of intercollegiate football officials in Philadelphia.

The dates and officials for all of the big gridiron classics of the east were agreed on. Yale Harvard and Princeton were the only big schools of learning that did not send representatives to this pre-season gathering. However, this does not mean by any means that these three universities will not fall in line before the time for the opening of the gridiron season draws near.

Manager Pat Moran of the Phillies put over a good deal when he added Pitcher Hogg to his club last winter. Hogg is the most valuable pitcher in the Moran ensemble just now.

The point races in the major leagues up to this time have been featured by a great number of 1 to 9 games.

ALL STARS WILL PLAY FAST MONTEREY TEAM AT BAILEY'S TOMORROW

The Janesville All Stars will celebrate the Fourth of July by crossing bats with the Monterey Stars at Bailey's woods. The strength of the Monterey team is unknown, but their captain promises a fast and tight game. The game will be played in the morning. Sunday the All Stars will not play at the Eagles' picnic at Crystal Springs, but will play at the Fairgrounds. The game on the Fourth will be the All Stars 14th game of the season. Out of this number they have won ten and lost three. This is a splendid record, and the All Stars are without a doubt one of the best if not the best team in the city. They are ready to take on any team of any size, age or experience. All who wish games should communicate with the manager or captain.

Some of the best judges are agreed that industrial and other safety is largely a matter of common sense.

ABE MARTIN

In a long dissertation on the new tinamous of Scott Perry, Chairman Herrmann of the national commission insists that the Boston Braves are legally entitled to that player. There is no room for doubt in this matter at this time. The fact remains uncontradicted that the Braves' belated claim to Perry was lacking in sportsmanship and should have been dropped.

More Connie Mack's appeal to the courts seems to have been ill timed and a menace to the baseball structure. In view of the eight consecutive defeats sustained by Perry to date the question may be asked: "Are the Braves defaulting to pay $2,000 more to the Atlanta club for Perry's release if Connie Mack waives claim?"

GASOLINE IS VERY SCARCE IN IRELAND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Dublin, July 2.—Gasoline is the most strictly rationed article in Ireland today. The use of automobiles for private purposes is constantly restricted, but the most rigid restrictions, and elderly women are prosecuted if they go shopping in motor cars.

Under these strict regulations regarding the use of gasoline, one of the perennial mysteries is how the Sinn Feiners are able to get apparently as much as they like without leave or license from the petrol commissioners. In a recent paid for arms on the Sinn Feiners, the Sinn Feiners arrived in twenty motor cars, all abundantly supplied with gasoline.

The rural police are constantly reporting the confiscation of gasoline from cars which are being operated without proper permits.

According to insiders in Dublin, this is explained by the fact that considerable quantities of gasoline have been washed ashore along the Irish coast from torpedoed ships, usually in cans, barrels, or large drums. Locally all such finds are the property of the state, but the state seldom gets it, for the rewards paid to honest fishermen who turn over such treasure to the government are insignificant, while the fishermen pick up a drum or two of petrol out of the Atlantic, perhaps at some personal risk, can always dispose of his find surreptitiously at a large price.

DESIRES TO KILL BOCHES WITH SNAKES

Los Angeles, July 2.—"Lonesome Jack" Altman, king of all rattlesnake catchers, offers to gather 10,000 side winders or hornet rattlesnakes if the Government will help him, dump them into the territories vacated to the Germans by the Americans and let the snakes do the rest. The side winder is a death dealer extraordinary, strikes three times as fast as any other rattle, and unlike others, does not act on the heart, but paralyzes the nerves within twenty minutes.

Altman would have no trouble in gathering them in Arizona and the Mexican border, he says. The Germans if they possessed such a deadly weapon would not hesitate to use it, Altman believes.

The heart of my idea is that the rattler can live five or six months in captivity without either food or water and they are just as effective during that time," says Altman. "I have made a study of the snake bite that could be supplied to anyone that handles them, but the Germans would not know what stung them."

My idea would be to catch them and then soak their tails in warm water. Then the shell that rattles and gives warning could be removed without injury to the snake. The fangs are so sharp that unless the warning is given with the rattles a person would hardly know what bit him. Side winders range in size from four to twelve feet."
